

Talk of The Town

Nancy Macdonald

Graham Doughty

Martin Deslauriers

David Seltzer

Mireille Kulisz

A successful year

Jardins Beaurepaire welcomes first tenants

Run for the Cure

Courtesy photo

Former Baie d'Urfé Mayor Anne Myles and Beaconsfield Mayor Bob Benedetti (centre) were on hand at the Jardins Beaurepaire ribbon cutting on Sept. 26. The event celebrated both the official opening of the apartment complex for autonomous seniors, and the arrival of the first tenants. Located in a quiet neighbourhood in a beautiful treed setting, Jardins Beaurepaire offers seniors 37 three-and-a-half, four-and-a-half, and five-and-a-half apartments for easy living. Also pictured are (l to r) Omar Rifai (associate) Doug Smith (associate), and Pat McGee (associate).

Courtesy photo

On Sept. 30, over 25,000 people took place in the CIBC Run for the Cure in Montreal, raising funds for the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation. The Pearls of Hope are currently on sale at Gemme Jewelers locations across the province, including Robert Richer Jewelers in Dorval. Ten dollars from every purchase will go towards the Quebec Breast Cancer Foundation.

Pictured here are Gemme Jewelers Group president Francois Perreault (left), Linda Richer of Robert Richer Jewelers (right), and pop singer and Quebec Breast Cancer Foundation spokesperson Mitsou (center).